- + Offer travel scholarships for Living LFS community members to attend the 2017 International LFS Conference in Toronto, Ontario. This conference is an opportunity to learn about the latest research while networking with doctors, researchers, advocates, and friends living with LFS.
- + Increase awareness of Li-Fraumeni Syndrome by making critical connections with the medical community and patients. For example, one of our goals this year is to create Regional Living LFS Ambassadors that will build local relationships with hospitals, genetic counselors, oncologists, and LLFS community members. We will also educate and increase awareness with our new Living LFS YouTube Channel.
